

Chiharu Kita Bio

Chiharu Kita is a dedicated piano tutor at CYCM, holding a bachelor's degree in Piano Performance and Music Pedagogy from Osaka Kyoiku University in Japan. She is also a certified secondary music teacher in Japan. Starting her piano journey at the age of three, supported by her mother, who is a violin teacher, Chiharu studied classical piano under the expert guidance of Yoko Matsuda, Chieko Oku, and Yasuko Miki. Her comprehensive musical education includes extensive training in solfège and music theory, spanning from primary school through university.

Chiharu has over two years of experience teaching piano to students ranging from three years old to adults in Australia. Currently pursuing a Master of Teaching (Secondary Music and Mathematics) at Charles Darwin University, she combines her strong academic foundation with a heartfelt passion for teaching. She is deeply committed to fostering her students' technical abilities, musical expression, and theoretical knowledge. Her goal is to inspire a lifelong love of music, empowering students to grow as confident, well-rounded musicians.
